

To read phonetically is our primary goal. Confident readers are confident students in other subjects. Therefore, in grades K-2, Covenant Home devotes considerable time to thorough instruction in phonics and the application of phonics rules to reading and spelling. Using a blending approach, students are taught to read one- and two-vowel words in the kindergarten year.

A complete phonics manual supplies the parent with all the words to say. Instruction includes activities for visual, auditory and kinesthetic methods of learning. The ball-and-stick method of penmanship instruction is used. Vowel-combination charts provide the tools for what children of this age love to do - memorize!

Accompanying our excellent Bible history book, which covers the wonderful truths of Creation and early Bible history, are the Hiding God's Word coloring sheets that enhance the Scripture memory program.

A love of poetry is fostered in kindergarten as well. An historical coloring book and a beginning science reader enrich the program. Children are introduced to the concepts of money, time, addition and subtraction in math.

Pricing Policy

Our pricing will be honored as long as possible. Due to the economy and recent policy changes at major publishers, some prices may increase. We will call or email you if this would apply to your order.

We avoid the practice of structuring programs lean so as to require additional or supplementary resources to make them work. For thirty years our primary service has been to provide the optimum balance of books and materials to enable parents to teach well.

Children's Classic Poetry Audio CD

Selections from A Child's Garden of Verses, by Robert L. Stevenson

These beloved poems of Robert Louis Stevenson are captured in a heartwarming, peaceful presentation, bringing delight to young and old. Classic literature and beautiful music are woven to inspire learning and foster imagination.

Children's Poetry Audio CD $10.00

Kindergarten Supplemental Readers:

These two phonetically controlled readers* make the perfect add-on to your kindergarten curriculum. Nicely illustrated, both books are written in poem form and worth reading time and again.

- Jack and Jill and Big Dog Bill
- Here Comes Silent e!

This somewhat more challenging story makes an excellent bridge between kindergarten and first grade. Your child is guaranteed to enjoy this excellent story about someone he has already "met."

- George Washington and the General's Dog

Set of three readers $11.95

* A phonetically controlled reader is one in which the majority of the words do not exceed the limits of the student's phonics ability.
